

GEORGE J. SCHEMBER

Vice President, Cargill Transportation & Logistics

Cargill, Incorporated
Minneapolis, MN

George Schember serves as Vice President, Cargill Transportation & Logistics (CTL), with responsibilities for T&L activities across Cargill's four global regions and multiple modal groups—truck, rail, barge, container, warehouse and terminals. He is the process owner for the Transportation & Logistics (T &L) area for Cargill's Process, Data and Technology organization.

He joined Cargill in 1984 as a commodity merchant for the Flour Milling Division. Since that time, he has held roles in Cargill's Flour Milling, Worldwide Dry Milling and North American Grain and Oilseeds businesses. He has served as wheat product line manager, division trading manager, and regional general manager. In 2005 he was named vice president of Horizon Milling, LLC. In this position, he was responsible for Horizon Milling operations, merchandising, supply chain, and customer service activities as well as overseeing the Goertzen Seed Research business. In 2007 he was named to lead Cargill North American Transportation. He assumed his current role in 2009.

Schember is a member of the National Industrial Transportation League (NITL) and the National Freight Transportation Association (NFTA). He also serves on the Executive Committee of the University of Minnesota Center for Transportation Studies. He volunteers as a mentor for American Corporate Partners, a nonprofit organization dedicated to assisting veterans in their transition from the armed services to the civilian workforce. He is former chairman of the Wheat Quality Council and was a member of the Minneapolis Grain Exchange.

Schember received a bachelor's degree in business administration from the University of Saint Thomas, Saint Paul, where he graduated Magna Cum Laude. He also holds a certificate from the Management Development Program of the University of Michigan Executive Education Center.
